The depth and detail attained is beyond what most speakers can achieve for double, triple or more. Listen to the system disappear to the degree that you will find yourself enjoying music and movies like you've never heard before. From person's whisper to an all out battle scene the nuances you now will hear will make you think you've missed half of all the movies you've ever watched. Also, late at night when everyone is sleeping you can still enjoy your new system at very soft levels. The all-new DSP subwoofers are the result of Paradigm's multi-year R&D effort to achieve maximum output from a compact package, while improving upon their already market-leading performance.
